September 25th, 2011 Twenty-Sixth Sunday in Ordinary Time

The Twenty-Sixth Week of Ordinary Time

On the Twenty-Sixth Sunday in Ordinary Time we hear Paul exhorting the Philippians, "Have in you the same attitude that is also in Christ Jesus," offering us a powerful image of Jesus' humble, self-less service. In Matthew's Gospel Jesus offers a story about two sons, one who agrees to work in the vineyard but doesn't; the other who tells his father he will not work but then quietly goes to work. It is a story that challenges the chief priests and elders of the people, "Tax collectors and prostitutes are entering the kingdom of God before you."

Tuesday is the Memorial of Saint Vincent de Paul, priest. Thursday is the Feast of Saint Michael, Saint Gabriel and Saint Raphael, archangels. Friday is the Memorial of Saint Jerome, priest and doctor of the Church. Saturday is the Memorial of Saint Thérèse of the Child Jesus, virgin and doctor of the Church. The first readings continue with the prophet Zechariah of the period of recovery after the exile. "They shall be my people, and I will be their God, with faithfulness and justice." The Book of Nehemiah, like Ezra, chronicles this history. The prophet Baruch gives us a prayer of the people in captivity and God's reply, "Fear not, my children; call out to God!"

We continue reading Luke's Gospel, as the disciples argue about who is the greatest. Jesus points out a young child and asks them to strive to be the "least" not the greatest. Jesus stops his disciples from preventing people, not of their group, from healing, because they are with Jesus, too. He stops the disciples from "calling down fire from heaven" on the Samaritan people who didn't give them a good reception. People come up, offering to follow Jesus, but have excuses for why they can't do it now. Jesus calls them to not "look back" once they have said, "yes." He sends his disciples to other towns: "The harvest is rich but the workers are few." Jesus warns the people blessed by the graces of his visits there, but who have not changed their ways. He prays, "I give you praise, Father, Lord of heaven and earth, for although you have hidden these things from the wise and the learned you have revealed them to the child-like."

A parable about tenants who were entrusted with their master's fields is at the center of the Twenty-Seventh Sunday in Ordinary Time. We hear Jesus really challenge the religious leaders with this story of the tenant farmers who refused to listen to the master's servants (the prophets) and abused and killed his son (Jesus) in an attempt to usurp his inheritance. Jesus tells them, "Therefore, I say to you, the kingdom of God will be taken away from you and given to a people that will produce its fruit."

Angels of Mercy

Our Angels of Mercy ministry has been kept quite busy over the past quarter. We have assisted several parishioners as well as conducted our yearly back to school supply program. This year our school program helped to provide supplies to all our parish children both in public schools and those being home schooled. The supplies that were not used were donated to Branford Elementary School for those children and families that need help in providing the necessary school items that are required.

This coming December we will once again sponsor our St. Nicholas Christmas Shop for our parish children. Rose Johnson has graciously volunteered to be our coordinator again this year. This program allows our children to shop, at no cost, for their parents and brothers and sisters. Dates and times for this program will be provided at a later date.

Next Sunday, October 2nd, is the quarterly collection for the Angels of Mercy. We are approaching the holiday season which is usually the busiest time for our ministry. Many people ask for assistance during this time and without your continued support and generosity we will not be able to provide them with the assistance they need. We thank all those that have so generously donated to the Angels of Mercy and pray for your continued support.
